

An Invitation to Attend APPLE Training

Southeast Kansas Library System invites you to attend Applied Public Library Education (APPLE).

This new, practical training approach will address your most pressing needs as a library director. In this two-day seminar you will begin to understand the background information you need to make your library the best it can be for your community by:

- collecting and analyzing community and library data,
- writing and implementing policies that are fair and effective,
- budgeting your library's income sources including wise spending,
- improving teamwork with trustees for increased cooperation,
- doing all of this and more with confidence and assurance, and
- understanding WHY you are doing these things.

APPLE will begin at Cedar Crest Lodge, Pleasanton, Kansas, May 19-20, 2010. All expenses, including meals and overnight lodging will be paid for you by Southeast Kansas Library System. We want you, your board, and your library to succeed!

Limit: 12 participants

APPLE is designed for Southeast Kansas Public Library Directors who do not have a Master's Degree in Library Science. Directors who have graduated KPLACE and are interested in attending APPLE will be placed on a waiting list and contacted if room becomes available.
